

Dear Students of 101,

If you were absent from class last week, please see the format of the listening activity that we began in class. In each section, please silently respond by writing words or phrases, questions or statements. Listening activity is conducted generally at the end of the hour before a break or the office hour. You may use the chart in the classroom or a clean unmarked green chart sheet. Please do not use the textbook, workbooks and notes from class. In your response, please be extensive as possible. Please see below instruction per each section of the activity. Questions in the final section on linguistic and culture will be instructed in English for 30 seconds.

Listening part A:

Write the words that you hear in Hiragana syllabary as in dictation exercise.

Part B:

Write the words that you hear in Katakana syllabary as in dictation exercise.

Part C:

Listen to each question and respond using the Japanese writing system. You do not have to write the question. Visual cues may be provided if applicable.

Part D:

Listen to each response and write the appropriate question using the Japanese writing system. You do not have to write the response. Visual cues may be provided if applicable.

Part E:

Listen to the definition or explanation in English and respond by using the appropriate phrases in Japanese or giving examples in Japanese.

Write the words that you hear in Hiragana syllabary as in dictation exercise.
リスニング (ヒアリング) p.1 Cue Sheet

2008 ねん 101

なまえ: _____

A. ひらがな

B. カタカナ

1. Ohayoo

1. Koohee

2. Sensee

2. Deeto

3. Tatte

3. Pootorando

4. Kyookasho

4. Jyogingu

5. Chotto Matte

5. Terebi

C.

1. A: Naji desu ka?

B: _____

2. A: Asagohan wa nanji desu ka?

B: _____

3. A:

B: _____

4. A:

B: _____

5. A:

B: _____

リスニング (ヒアリング) p.1

D.

1. A: _____

B: Ongaku desu.

2. A: _____

B: Tomodachi desu.

3. A: _____

B: Toshokan desu.

4. A: _____

B:

5. A: _____

B:

E.

1. How do you address to an instructor whose first name is Takako and the last name is Yamaguchi?

2. How do you address to a classmate whose first name is Takako and the last name is Yamaguchi?

3. How do offer something politely?

4. How do you politely make request?

5. How do you greet to an instructor in the morning?