GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

All colleges have a general education requirement designed to provide the breadth of knowledge and skills expected from college graduates. At Portland State University, there are two general education tracks available: University Studies and University Honors. Students must complete one of these tracks to graduate from PSU.

UNIVERSITY STUDIES

www.pdx.edu/unst

The University Studies program emphasizes an understanding of communication, critical thinking, social and ethical responsibility, and diversity of the human experience at all levels. These courses are unique to Portland State University and cannot be completed at other institutions. However, it is recommended that students planning to transfer to PSU take courses that address these goals (e.g., writing, speech, philosophy, political science, ethnic studies.)

► Freshman Inquiry: A year-long theme-based sequence taught by an interdisciplinary team of instructors.

► Sophomore Inquiry: Gateway courses that introduce the themes to be further explored in the Upper Division Cluster. These courses introduce students to ideas, research, theory and perspectives that are central to the cluster. Examples include Asian Studies, Family Studies, Media Studies, Nineteenth Century, and Popular Culture. Students will be required to complete one, two, or three different Sophomore Inquiries based on their transfer status (see below).

► Upper Division Cluster: A group of approved upper division courses which explore interdisciplinary themes. As an example, the Asian Studies Cluster includes courses related to Asia taught by Anthropology, Art History, Chinese, Japanese, and History. Students complete a total of 12 credits in one cluster. Students who are required to take Sophomore Inquiry must choose a cluster which matches one of the Sophomore Inquiry courses taken. Courses from a student's major department may not be used to satisfy the cluster requirements. Information about clusters may be found on the University Studies website.

► Senior Capstone: A six-credit community-based learning course developed and taught by a faculty member. Students work as a team to research and develop projects which address challenges within the community. Many capstones work with schools, non-profit organizations or city agencies.
