

Technical Skill Assessment Types (OCCURS)

Code	Type	Description
OTHER	Other technical skill assessment	The technical skill assessment does not fit into any other category.
PAIRCL*	Performance assessment with industry recognized certificate or license	One or more tasks or work samples are evaluated using a standard rubric. Development and scoring is controlled by a national or state organization that awards industry recognized credentials for demonstrated proficiency.
PAXNOCLI	Performance assessment developed and scored externally (no certificate or license)	One or more tasks or work samples are evaluated using a standard rubric. Development and scoring is controlled by a national or state assessment provider that does not award an industry recognized credential for demonstrated proficiency.
PALOC	Performance assessment developed and scored locally	One or more tasks or work samples are evaluated using a standard rubric. Development and scoring is controlled by a regional or local agency or organization.
TESTIRCL	Test with industry recognized certificate or license	A standardized test or set of tests that are developed and scored by a national or state organization that awards industry recognized credentials for demonstrated proficiency.
TESTXNOCL*	Test developed and scored externally (no certificate or license)	A standardized test or tests that are developed and scored by a national or state assessment provider that does not award industry recognized credentials for demonstrated proficiency.
TESTLOC	Test developed and scored locally	A standardized test or tests that are developed and scored by a regional or local agency or organization.
PORTIRCL	Portfolio with industry recognized certificate or license	A collection of evidence which may include performance assessments and tests. The portfolio is assessed using a rubric developed and controlled by a national or state organization that awards industry recognized credentials for demonstrated proficiency.

PORTXNOCL*	Portfolio scored externally (no certificate or license)	A collection of evidence which may include performance assessments and tests. The portfolio is assessed using a rubric developed and controlled by a national or state assessment provider that does not award industry recognized credentials for proficiency.
PORTLOC	Portfolio scored locally	A collection of evidence which may include performance assessments and tests. The portfolio criteria development and evaluation is conducted by a local or regional agency or organization.