The Program began last year as a collaborative vision between DSC member Amy Stevens and PCC Director of Governmental Relations Rob Wagner.

“Amazing! This is so wonderful and exactly why I have nothing but good things to say about PCC! It gives community college students an opportunity to really get out there and see that their hard work and progress is [contributing] to a bigger societal realm. Great to see!” -- Eileen Mihich (PCC community member, online discussion comment)

“PCC has given me a chance to take the first step in achieving my life’s goals...[thanks to PCC and opportunities like this internship] I can now be a more steadfast student advocate and member of the community... Institutional and Financial support is critical for the continuation and development of this program

• Institutional Support: PCC Board of Directors, College Advancement Office, PCC Cascade Political Science Department and the District Student Council

• Financial support: Previous District Student Council funding in the form of Tuition Waivers and Stipends have made this opportunity accessible to PCC students of all circumstance. This funding is not guaranteed for future years.
