Background

- Arts and Humanities: Focus on Excellence
  - Cornerstones of Sylvania programming and campus activities
  - Emphasis on diversity, equity and inclusion in courses and extracurricular activities
- This presentation outlines those efforts and also highlights some key next steps for future programming
  - Not exhaustive; showcases great examples
  - In some areas, usage and outcome data are unavailable but we are making attempts to increase the use of evidence in evaluating these programs

Programs and Activities: Snapshots from Sylvania
North View Gallery

- Hosts five shows a year, including and an end of the year student show at the end of the year and a summer artist-in-residence program
- During the summer months, the gallery hosts an artist-in-residence
Musical

- Produced every other year
- “In the Heights” sold more than 2,000 tickets during its seven-day run
- The musical was chosen for its social, economical and cultural relevance to issues our faculty, staff and students are facing today
Musical

- More than 100 students from the entire VAPAD worked on the production
- The stage was the same stage and props used in the Broadway play
Theatre Arts Productions

• Produced three main-stage productions per academic year
• Presented more than 70 fully staged shows
• “Love and Information” just wrapped after six performances
• Many students find employment in Portland arts community
Dance and Music Recitals

- Sylvania hosts 6-10 student performances a year
- Upcoming performance is May 30-31 at 6:30 p.m. in the PAC and is FREE
- Sylvania choir performs around campus and in the community regularly
Graphic Design and Portfolio Reviews

• Hosted at the end of each academic year
• Students are employed by Nike, Powell’s Books, Dark Horse Comics, Zulily.com
• Three students recently earned Graphis New Talent Annual honors, a top design award for college students
Literary Magazines

- Sylvania publishes a quarterly (Letter & Line) and annual (Alchemy) literary magazine
- The magazines include writing and art by students and the community
- Production is overseen by SY Literature faculty members
Russian (and other languages)

- Since 2011, 11 Russian language students have earned Critical Language Scholarships, which is a fully funded language and cultural immersion program for Americans.
- Russian students continuously are honored by annual National Post-Secondary Russian Essay Contest.
Creating Equitable Student Success: Languages

- Faculty in ESOL, World Languages and English have held multiple sessions of “speed culturing,” connecting English language learners with others.
- ESOL faculty offered workshops to other faculty groups on “Dealing effectively with students whose native languages are not English.”
- Sign Language faculty worked with other faculty across the college to teach about how to work effectively with faculty and student members of the Deaf community.
Upcoming Projects/Discussion

- National Endowment for the Humanities Grant Proposal
  - Re-imagining the Humanities Classroom through a Social Justice Framework
- “Sylvania Creates”
  - Series of events including collaborations between arts and humanities, readers/speakers, and creative engagement opportunities for students
