PCC’s goal is to provide an atmosphere that encourages people to realize their full potential.

All members of our community, including our guests and visitors, deserve to learn and work in a safe environment—and we take our responsibility to provide this space seriously.

Sexual misconduct—including sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic or dating violence, or any other behavior that has made you feel unsafe or unwelcome—is not tolerated in any form at PCC.

Sexual misconduct can happen to anyone regardless of sex, gender identity or expression, age, ethnicity, class, religion, sexual orientation or relationship status. If you or someone you know has experienced sexual misconduct, please review the resources in this brochure and take the first step in caring for yourself.

Key Definitions

Consent
Permission to engage in sexual conduct, which must be informed, voluntary, and mutual, and can be withdrawn at any time.

Dating Violence
Includes violence by a person who has been in a romantic or intimate relationship with the victim. Whether there was such a relationship will be gauged by its length, type, and frequency of interaction.

Domestic Violence
Includes asserted violent misdemeanor or felony offenses committed by the victim's current or former spouse, current or former cohabitant, person similarly situated under domestic or family violence law or anyone else protected under domestic or family violence law.

Sexual Assault
Any actual or attempted sexual contact made without a person’s consent.

Stalking
A course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for their or others’ safety, or to suffer substantial emotional distress.

Retaliation
Retaliation means any adverse treatment that is taken because a person engaged in protected activity (e.g., opposing discriminatory practices, filing a complaint, or participating in an investigation).

Sexual Harassment
Unwelcome sexual conduct that creates a hostile, intimidating, or unsafe environment.

Know Your Rights

At PCC
If you report sexual misconduct, PCC can begin an investigation on your behalf.

Here’s what you can expect:

- You have the right to learn and work in a safe environment.
PCC follows a zero tolerance policy for all forms of sexual misconduct and gender-based discrimination.

- You have the right to a prompt and fair investigation.
A report of sexual assault to most PCC employees will trigger a mandatory report to a Title IX coordinator, and may result in a prompt, thorough, and neutral investigation, typically within 60 days. Confidentiality cannot be guaranteed, but will be respected as much as possible.

- You have the right to file a complaint without fear of retaliation.
Reporting party or witnesses who report sexual misconduct are protected from retaliation under the law and PCC policy. Both parties may have an advisor during a conduct hearing, and must be informed of the outcome. Both parties have the right to appeal.

- You have the right to access support and health services.
PCC offers confidential counseling services and can connect you with on- and off-campus resources to help you heal.

In the Legal System
Victims may be able to pursue these options without involvement in the criminal process:

- Restraining Order
You may petition the court for a protective/restraining order (FAPA, SAPA, Stalking, EPPADA).

- Civil Law Suit
You may sue the accused or other responsible parties for personal injury or forms of harm.

- Leaving your job
If you have to quit for domestic violence, stalking, or sexual assault reasons, you can receive unemployment without refusal, discrimination, or retaliation from your employer.

- Leaving your housing environment
If you have to break a lease or request to have your locks changed for domestic violence, stalking, or sexual assault reasons, you can do so without refusal, discrimination, or retaliation by your landlord.

- Immigration
There is immigration relief available to crime victims in the U.S. Learn more at http://tinyurl.com/uscois espanol.
Catholic Charities Immigration Legal Services is the primary immigration legal assistance nonprofit in Portland. 503-642-2865

Some immigration relief may require participation in criminal process.
