

Quick Start Manufacturing Technician Training

Enrolling Now!

Get a quick start to a rewarding career in the manufacturing industry! In just 10 days, you can gain the skills needed for a stable, high-paying job with leading companies like Intel and other semiconductor manufacturers.

Why Choose a Career in Manufacturing?

- Career Growth in a Stable Industry: Manufacturing powers everything from healthcare to renewable energy and consumer goods.
- High Income Potential: Entry-level technicians earn between $18-24 per hour, usually with full benefits, with the possibility of growth.
- Hands-On, High-Tech Work: Build, assemble, and test products that impact daily life.
- Work-Life Balance: Many roles offer steady schedules and opportunities for overtime.
- No experience necessary! A high school diploma or GED are all that's required.

Who Should Apply?

This program is designed to expand access to manufacturing careers. People of color, women, and others who have been underrepresented in manufacturing are strongly encouraged to apply.
