Old A112 - Academic Advising For Non-Degree Seeking Students

- To generate a process that would address areas relating to student success,
- To verify a student's degree seeking status which impacts TRAIL accessibility and eligibility for Financial Aid funding,
- To provide information to use in assessment of student success and in measuring student outcomes.
- To provide counseling and advising intervention to promote and support student program success

Students who have declared themselves as non-degree seeking and who have earned thirty-credit hours at Portland Community College are required to contact the college in order to confirm or change their current status before for a subsequent term.
