More than two years into the pandemic, many people are rethinking their relationship to work and exploring different career paths. But how do you find the time to build and grow your ideal work life? For busy professionals, career podcasts can offer an excellent solution.

Since starting the Find Your Dream Job career podcast in 2015, I've discovered a thriving community of fellow podcasters who help people build dynamic careers. These hosts produce terrific shows, focusing on tactics that help you get hired and create the career you want.

In the vast universe of the podcast world, it takes time to find career-focused content that's worth your time. There are scores of shows under the career section of Apple Podcasts, for example, but they're not all going to deliver useful advice that will be helpful for your job search.

In 2017, I decided we all needed a better way to find great career podcasts. So I created my inaugural Top Career Podcasts Guide: a single source for the best shows dedicated to helping professionals look for work and grow their careers.

As time has gone on, I have continued to explore new podcasts to find the best shows that help people with job searching and career development. We're returning with our fifth annual guide this year.

Representation and racial equity continue to be crucial in the workplace. I'm pleased to share that 53 percent of this year's featured podcast hosts are women and 41 percent are BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, or people of color).

While we're sad to see some of our longtime career podcast friends have moved on from hosting their shows, we're grateful for the work they have shared over the years and we're excited to discover new shows. Forty-eight percent of this year's shows are being featured for the first time.

I hope this guide will introduce you to some fantastic new podcasts that will help you take the next steps in your career. You can follow the hashtag #CareerPodcast to see new shows and episodes as they come out in the coming months.

If you would like to nominate a show for the 2023 guide, please email me at mac@macslist.org.

Thank you and happy listening!
