PCC Student Outreach: Communicating Climate Change to the Public

Kira Klingenberg, Sam Underwood & Tracey Scherban

PCC Cascade TLC, CH102, Friday, May 22, 1 pm

In partnership with the Oregon Museum of Science & Industry, PCC students developed museum exhibits and participated in outreach events to raise awareness of climate change. Come and hear what they learned about effective science communication. This student presentation was given at the American Chemical Society National Meeting in March 2015. Demonstrations and activities on climate change will follow the presentation.

The entire campus community is invited!
Light refreshments will be served.
